

Phil Grainger assumes role as Product manager for DB2 Tools

Cogito is pleased to announce the signing of an agreement with Grainger Database Solutions Ltd (GdbS) to provide DB2 consultancy and product design & development services in support of Cogito's EZ-DB2 family of SQL and Index performance analysis tools.

Phil Grainger, Consulting Director at Grainger Database Solutions said "In my time in the DB2 tools market, I have been aware of the EZ-DB2 product line and I am excited at the possibilities of this relationship. I am really looking forward to helping Cogito further enhance the product line and help maintain EZ-DB2's position as a market leader in theDB2 tools arena.

Jon Gray, CEO of Cogito said "We have known Phil Grainger for many years and are well aware of his unique skills and excellent reputation in both the UK and worldwide. I am sure that he will be a huge asset to our R&D efforts and we look forward to a long and successful relationship with him and his company. This new alliance should provide great benefit to the user community"

About Phil Grainger

Phil has over 20 years experience of DB2 starting back in 1987 with DB2 Version 1.2 and he has particular skills in performance management and backup and recovery. He was Product Manager at Platinum technology for over 7 years and more recently he spent over 10 years at Computer Associates where he was Senior Principal Product manager for DB2 tools.

Phil is a regular speaker at DB2 events. In fact, to date Phil has spoken at 36 separate IDUG conferences – and has frequently been voted in the top 10 speakers.

In 2009 Phil was honoured by IBM as an Information Champion .

Read what industry experts have to say about Phil Grainger.